

LEGION CARNIVAL FOR NORWOOD PARK

Three-Day Affair Starts With Hearty Co-operation of Local Authorities

INSURED AGAINST RAIN

The three-day carnival of the Norwood Post opens today and will last through Saturday evening. The auxiliary has given the Legion the use of Norwood Park for the affair, and has made possible financial loss through rain, the post has taken over the Polaris River on the steamboat President with jazz orchestra and other features.

Members of the Thomas B. Fales Post No. 108 announce that the newly organized auxiliary is a most welcome addition and is adding greatly to the success of the meetings by contributing refreshments. The auxiliary is also planning a picnic on the Fourth of July, to which all members and their families are invited. As a return favor the post proper will give a "moonlight" on July 26, sailing down the Delaware River on the steamboat President with jazz orchestra and other features.

John McKenna Post No. 660, of Marcus Hook, will in the near future present a play based on the World War, opening with scenes from college life, the call to the colors and the eventual return of the hero from the battlefields unscathed into the arms of his best beloved. The libretto is the work of T. C. Brown, who has a number of stage successes to his credit. Members of the cast are rehearsing regularly. The play will be presented in the Masonic Temple of the borough.

Edward S. Fitzhugh, 2507 South Canal street, honor student of the George C. Thomas Junior High School, has received the American Legion medal for courage, honor, service, leadership and scholarship. It was presented to him by W. L. Jenkins, commander of William T. Shelzline Post No. 96. The post will also present a medal to the honor student of the Baldwin School. Due to the large turnout of members at all meetings this year, the post will continue its meetings semi-monthly throughout the summer, first and third Tuesdays, at 2407 South Broad street. The post representatives on the County Committee will present a plan to the County Committee to have an American Legion outing at Wildwood.

The last monthly meeting of John Winthrop Post No. 118, at Bryn Mawr, was held Monday evening. A delegation from the Calhoun Post attended. Every member of the post present at the meeting was made one of the Membership Committee, to bring in one new member of a household. J. H. Tuttle, post commander, has sent out an appeal to all ex-service men to join the Legion, in order that they may stand together in bringing to pass those things for which they have hoped and to seek a square deal for the disabled.

$500,000 IN BONDS ARE NEARLY FORGOTTEN

Lay In Vault a Quarter Century Apparently Overlooked

A cache of $500,000 in bonds that had reposed in a vault for more than twenty-five years was yesterday removed by Mayor Moore and turned over to the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. The bonds have been lying undisturbed in a trust company vault since the Administration of Mayor Warwick in the nineties. The bonds were deposited to meet the obligations of the railroad incident to the construction of the Pennsylvania avenue subway. Through the terms of six successive Mayors they have been undisturbed and had virtually been forgotten until the railway officials sought to recover them under the terms of the original agreement. The Mayor, accompanied by Secretary Hare, of the railway, and Daniel Shuster, secretary to the Mayor, visited the trust company, opened the vault and turned the bonds over to the company. The city in return received the final payment from the company of $45,022.50.

TO FREE GLENWOOD PLANT

Evidence of Rum Violation Lacking, Washington Rules

The Glenwood distillery, which was seized some weeks ago by prohibition authorities on the charge that it was supplying whisky to a bootlegging syndicate, shortly will be released. Blakey D. McLaughlin, collector of Internal Revenue, received orders to that effect yesterday from Washington.

The distillery had a permit to make and sell whisky, and authorities at Washington said evidence of any violation was lacking.
